

What is claimed is:

1. A system for monitoring health-related conditions of patients, comprising:
a plurality of remote monitoring stations, each being adapted to receive patient health-related data pertaining to a respective patient; and a computer network comprising a database containing accumulated health-related data pertaining to health-related conditions and treatment, said computer network being adapted to receive said patient health-related data from said remote monitoring stations, to establish treatments programs for said patients based on their respective patient health-related data and said accumulated health-related data, and to revise said accumulated health-related data based on said patient health-related data.
2. A system as claimed in claim 1, wherein:
each of said remote monitoring stations includes at least one measuring device, adapted to measure a physiological condition of said respective patient, and to provide data representative of said physiological condition for inclusion among said patient health-related data.
3. A system as claimed in claim 1, wherein:
said remote monitoring stations are adapted to provide said patient health-related data to said computer network over the Internet.
4. A system as claimed in claim 1, wherein:
said computer network further includes at least one data access device, adapted to provide a health care provider access to said computer network and said database.
5. A system as claimed in claim 1, wherein:
said computer network is adapted to generate reports, each including health-related information pertaining to a respective said patient.
6. A system as claimed in claim 1, wherein:

said receiving includes transmitting said patient health-related data from said monitoring stations over the Internet to said computer network.

11. A method as claimed in claim 8, further comprising:
providing a health care provider access to said computer network and said database via at least one data access device.
12. A method as claimed in claim 8, further comprising:
controlling said computer network to generate reports, each including health-related information pertaining to a respective said patient.
13. A method as claimed in claim 8, further comprising:
controlling said computer network to provide said accumulated health-related data stored in said database to organizations financing at least a portion of said treatment programs, and is adapted to receive financial data pertaining to said treatment programs from said organizations and to store said financial data in said database.
14. A method as claimed in claim 8, wherein:
said obtaining step includes controlling each said remote monitoring station to receive from its respective said patient said health related data including data pertaining to the cardiovascular system of said patient.
15. A method for managing health-related conditions of patients, comprising:
assigning healthcare managers to said patients, such that each said healthcare manager is assigned to a respective group of said patients; collecting said healthcare data by using each said healthcare manager to collect respective health-related data for each respective patient in their said group of patients; controlling a computer network to receive said health-related data from each of said healthcare managers, and to store said health-related data pertaining to each said patient in a database, said database further including accumulated data pertaining to health-related conditions and treatments; coordinating each said healthcare manager with at least one member of a primary care team to establish a treatment plan for each respective patient in their said group of patients based on said health-related data pertaining to that respective patient and said accumulated data; and updating said accumulated data in said database based on said health-related data provided by said healthcare managers.

16. A method as claimed in claim 15, wherein:

said collecting includes using a respective remote monitoring station to obtain respective said health-related data from each respective said patient.

17. A method as claimed in claim 15, wherein:

said controlling controls said computer network to receive said health-related data from at least some of said health-care managers via the Internet.

18. A method as claimed in claim 15, further comprising:

controlling said computer network to provide said accumulated health-related data stored in said database to organizations financing at least a portion of said treatment programs, and is adapted to receive financial data pertaining to said treatment programs from said organizations and to store said financial data in said database.

19. A method as claimed in claim 15, further comprising:

controlling said computer network to generate reports, each including health-related information pertaining to a respective said patient.

20. A method as claimed in claim 15, wherein:

said respective health-related data for each said respective patient includes data pertaining to the cardiovascular system of said respective patient.
